

Vice President of Economic Development Job Advertisement

Posting

Employer: Thomas P. Miller Associates \(TPMA\)

Position: Vice President of Economic Development

Location: Indianapolis, Indiana

Position Summary:

The primary function of this position is to develop and drive the regional and national economic development strategies for TPMA; to act as a thought leader and expert in the Economic Development space; and to use leadership, creativity, problem-solving and internal drive to achieve results.

Experience & Education:

- Minimum 8-years experience in Economic Development, 5 of which in a leadership position
- Bachelor's degree from an accredited college/university required
- Master's degree from an accredited college/university preferred

Responsibilities:

- Accountable for driving business results in practice area (results include but not limited to growth in revenue, profit, productivity, and customer satisfaction).
- Create and cultivate strategic partnerships on a regional and national level to further the reach of TPMA.
- Manage a small team of director-level reports and indirectly supervise a team of 20-25: responsible for recruitment, training, and development of the team.
- Provide thought leadership and innovative strategies to workforce, research and data, and economic development markets and initiatives.
- Manage multiple demanding priorities and solve problems while overseeing several projects.
- Travel required for this position. Potential for substantial travel as the firm grows their national and international presence.

Salary and Benefits:

- Salary is commensurate with experience and benefits include medical, dental, vision, life, and disability coverage for employees along with generous PTO.

Application Information:

- TPMA has contracted ADVISA to handle the HR and Recruiting functions for the Vice President of Economic Development position. Interested applicants should submit the following materials: cover letter and resume to ADVISA at TPMA-VP-EconDev@advisausa.com.